

Nunoa Project's Education Programs in the Peruvian Andes and the US Need Your Support for 2022

Students working with the US Alpaca Teaching Herd in the Fall of 2021

The COVID pandemic has not stopped our US teaching program now in its 16th year. Undergraduate and veterinary students and veterinarians have continued to be trained here in the US. Our graduates continue to enter veterinary schools throughout the world.

We have held online educational meetings with farmers in Peru.

Our international veterinary teams return to hands on work with Peruvian farmers in the summer of 2022.

Nunoa Project Veterinary Team Working with Farmers in the Andes

It's not too late to help! Please help us to continue our important work with a tax-deductible contribution in 2021 via our website.

www.nunoaproject.org